About Low Income Housing Institute: The Low Income Housing Institute develops, owns and operates housing for the benefit of low-income, homeless and formerly homeless people in Washington state, advocates for just housing policies at the local and national levels, and administers a range of supportive service programs to assist those served in maintaining stable housing and increasing their self-sufficiency. Populations served by LIHI include children and families, current or formerly incarcerated, immigrants and refugees, Indigenous communities, individuals with physical or intellectual disabilities, Latinx communities, LGBTQIA2S+ communities, seniors/elders, survivors of DVSA, teens/at-risk/opportunity youth, individuals experiencing housing instability and/or homelessness, and individuals with mental illness.

Position Description

Join the Low Income Housing Institute team at our Ballard neighborhood Urban Rest Stop in Seattle as the Essential Needs Coordinator on the front lines of helping people experiencing homelessness receive crucial hygiene services, resource support, and community donations to assist clients in transitioning from homelessness to housing. At the URS, which provides free laundry, showers, and restrooms for the Seattle homeless population, the Essential Needs Coordinator will assist staff in providing hygiene services for clients, provide clients with resource information and referrals to housing, shelter, employment, food, education, health care, child care, treatment and other programs, and help organize donation and volunteer programs. The Essential Needs Coordinator will play a critical role in helping people and families exit homelessness and poverty and gain stability, self-sufficiency, and permanent housing.
